EGYPT'S SCATTERED OBELISKS.

Thirty obelisks transported from Egypt from time to time are now standing in various parts of Europe. Of these there are in Rome eleven, in London four, in Paris three, in New York one. The highest of these, and the highest in Europe, being 106 feet without the base, stands before the Church of St. John Lateran. The obelisk is the place of St. Peter's obelisk. The pedestal of the obelisk is 14 feet high, making the total height of the obelisk 120 feet. The pedestal of the obelisk is 14 feet high, making the total height of the obelisk 120 feet. ### PATERNAL PRUDENCE.

The young lady who lately disappeared from New York and was advertised for under the name of Miss Sarah Joyce, is said to have discarded her love for the strength of a report made by a private detective, employed by her father. The young man whose attentions she had been receiving had the outward seeming of respectability. We are told that he was well received in the "best circles" and was a member of a fashionable club. He was evidently a young man of good breeding and pleasing address, for he seems to have completely won the young lady's heart. The father of the girl was a prudent, possibly a suspicious man. He could not take of the eyes of a young man who moved in the best circles. He called in the aid of a private detective bureau, and requested that the antecedents, habits, and associations of his daughter's lover should be investigated.

SECRETARY SCHURZ IN NEWARK.

TO MAKE AN ADDRESS AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC AND A GENERAL ADDRESS TO TAKE PLACE IN THE EVENING.

Carl Schurz, Secretary of the Interior, will address the Germans of Newark at the Academy of Music, on Monday evening next, and Col. E. W. Davis has ordered a general parade in his honor of all the uniformed Republican organizations. The Throgs Neck Regiment, Col. John H. Bland commanding, has been detailed to act as an escort to Secretary Schurz for the evening, and will escort him from the residence of Mrs. B. Prieth, whose guest he will be while here, to the Academy of Music. The main parade will form on Market and Washington streets, and will cross the river at the Washington bridge. The line of march will be down Washington street to Clinton avenue, to High street, and up High street to the residence of Mrs. Prieth, where the parade will be reviewed by Secretary Schurz. As soon as all the organizations have passed in review the parade will be dismissed.

A LOVELY RAT.

A colored man whom I shall call Elias, who serves as a coachman for my friend Mr. M., says "the philosopher" of the Syracuse Herald, was once employed in a boarding house, which was infested with rats. He derived an immense amount of amusement from the rats, and was constantly of an empty barrel with him in inviting but garnished with put, which he put to effective use as a trap for the sleek rascals. The landlady was delighted, and paid him a cent for every rat he caught—and the name of the victims in the kitchen. Each morning, after he had caught the spoils of the night and recited his prey, he would take his rats in a bag to the proprietor of a sporting establishment down town, who paid him two cents apiece for them and also presumed to turn them into profitable accounts in his pit. After the first day was over, a handsome female specimen to which Elias took a decided fancy, and he resolved to tame her. He responded kindly to his advances, and became in time so gentle that she would eat out of his hand and play about his person, running and down his sleeves, and on to his feet. Her affection for him and her faculty of memory were once proved in a notable way. Somebody earnestly let her out of her cage during her owner's absence, and in a few moments she had found her way into the kitchen, where she had been accustomed to eat her food and drink. For a long time after that master and rat were inseparable; but by and by the former changed his quarters, and in his new home had no convenience for keeping his little companion, so he sold her for two dollars to a retail liquor dealer, who put her behind his bar for the entertainment of his customers and grew very much attached to her.

ONE DAY ELIAS WAS PASSING THE SHOP AND HIS OWNER CALLED HIM IN.

"I have lost Jiny," said he, "and one of my men, recover her. If you get her for me I will give you fifty cents." The challenge was accepted on the spot, and the colored man tried the magic of his voice. It was as efficient as before. Out of a hole near by, Jiny, apparently overjoyed to see her friend once more, surrounded herself to his hands with innumerable kisses. From that day to this, if I recall his story aright, he has never seen her.

A TRAMP WENT UP UNBATHED WITH COLD WATER STANDING IN GREAT BUCKS UPON HIS FOREHEAD.

"What's the matter?" said his companion. "A frightful dream. I dreamt I was at work. I told you that last night you would give me a hard knock."

RYAL NEWSPAPER.

THE PROPRIETOR OF THE NEWARK "MORNING ADVISOR" AND THE NEWARK "JOURNAL" CONTENDING FOR THE LEGAL ADVERTISING RIGHTS.

The proprietor of the Morning Register of Newark, having filed an affidavit with the City Clerk, setting forth that his circulation on the 25th of August last was 3,100, and Judge Guild of the Newark Evening Journal having informed the Common Council through a communication that "from information and belief" he was entitled to the circulation of the Register did not exceed one-third of the above named number, a committee was appointed by Council, at its last meeting, to investigate the matter and determine what of these rival sheets, the Journal or Register, is most widely circulated. This action was taken by the Board because the Register had been substituted for the Journal as a corporation paper, and there is a municipal law which requires the publication of some portions of the city advertising in papers having the largest circulation.

This action was taken by the Board because the Register had been substituted for the Journal as a corporation paper, and there is a municipal law which requires the publication of some portions of the city advertising in papers having the largest circulation.

THE COMMITTEE, CONSISTING OF ALDERMEN J. C. LITTLE, CLARK, AND BLYTHE, MET ON FRIDAY EVENING LAST, IN THE MAYOR'S OFFICE, AND JUDGE GUILD APPEARED WITH WM. B. GUILD, JR., AS HIS COUNSEL, AND DR. VAIL WAS PRESENT WITH JUDGE JOHNSON AS HIS COUNSEL.

Judge Johnson testified to his circulation on the 25th of August last was 3,100, and Judge Guild of the Newark Evening Journal having informed the Common Council through a communication that "from information and belief" he was entitled to the circulation of the Register did not exceed one-third of the above named number, a committee was appointed by Council, at its last meeting, to investigate the matter and determine what of these rival sheets, the Journal or Register, is most widely circulated. This action was taken by the Board because the Register had been substituted for the Journal as a corporation paper, and there is a municipal law which requires the publication of some portions of the city advertising in papers having the largest circulation.
